

THE INKWELL MAGAZINE

ISSUE 2: Finding Love at BISV

Anonymous Dating Advice

What does love mean to you?

"Being able to laugh and be comfortable with yourself around the other person :)"

How do you find love in BISV?

"You go up to someone and say 'hey shawty, you look so scrumptious-lah, wanna link?' grabbie hands: you say 'grabbie hands' and then you look them in the eyes and give them a ki- I'm kidding that's how you get arrested."

"Honestly, I'm not sure if you can find it because it'll happen if it happens. If you like someone just go for it. If it doesn't work out, there's always someone else down the road."

"It was something that happened when I wasn't looking for someone. They rushed into my life and swept me along with them."

"Share interests among your peers and find where you're happiest."

What advice do you have for students interested in dating?

"Don't settle for less just because you think you don't have other options. At this age, your future is the most important thing so don't worry about maintaining a relationship over your life."

"I know it's hard not to care about your partner's past people, but the easiest way is probably just to accept the past is just the past and it didn't work out for a reason. Focus on each other, not on others."

"Don't feel too pressured, dating is supposed to be mutually fun. If you get stressed in a relationship, break or pause it."

Want more anonymous dating advice? Curious to know how many people have had their first kiss? Try our Valentine's Bingo? Check out our website: <https://bisvquill.com/category/inkwell/>

Valentine's Day or Galentine's Day?

Galentine's Day counter: 5

Valentine's Day counter: 1

"You can celebrate a relationship on your anniversary but when are you going to celebrate your friendships!"

"Valentine's is meh. It's just capitalism."

Describe your first kiss (or favorite) in 3 words.

"Like a movie"

"Dark, relaxed, unreal"

Describe your partner. Or for the singles, your favorite friend! (In a phrase or within 5 words)

"The sassy man apocalypse."

"Funny, super-[redacted]-attractive, caring"

If your love life was a genre/theme song/movie/book what would it be?

"A Series of Unfortunate Events."

"The Martian, because there's mostly only one character."

"Margaret by Lana Del Rey because I'd always get a feeling if I started talking to someone. Like if it's going to end badly, your body reacts and you get like a pit in your stomach but if something good is going to happen, you'll know."

"I'd say it would be 'our song,' because it reminds me of us."

"Sing the Moon by Tsukuyomi."

What is your ideal date? Favorite date so far?

"Worst date is going to the C stairwell because a sixth-grader will come up to you and terrorize you. That's if you're not in sixth grade already. Children, don't go on dates. All the men are so [redacted]."

"If you go on dates your mom will yell at you for wasting time."

"For my ideal date, the rose garden is nice as I feel like it's a romantic place. As for my favorite, I would say Great America."

"My ideal date would probably be spending a day to travel somewhere new with someone and just explore a new city together."

"... Anime conventions..."