The Inkwell Preview

You may or may not be familiar with the Quillympics, The Quill’s annual creative writing competition! We’ve decided to take things one step forward by re-branding the original Quill Quest Magazine into The Inkwell, your home for all things poetry, prose, & art.

The following page is a preview of what we have in store for the Inkwell! This page will only contain excerpts and due to the exceptional and vintage quality of our printers, this preview will also be in black and white. Feel free to check out the full stories (in color) on our website.

We will also be releasing Special Edition Print Issues, but only a few each year. Be on the lookout for those!

Nighttime Opera (Excerpt)

By Zoe C.

Somewhere out there, a nightingale warbles,
A soothing, purified tune
Carried to my windowsill
Coaxing me asleep.

Eyes (Excerpt)

By Mahika D.

1) Grey
The storm of the sea
The inclement instigator
The one who you Never Forget

Day 7 Drip. (Preview)

By Isabelle E.

An Inktober Special

Lamps and Lost Souls (Excerpt)

By Aarohi G.

The wind holds its breath for the crickets song:
Slow, steady chirping for cold days ahead.
Barren branches twist around each other;
Their shadows snake towards shuttered windows.

Cat (Preview in Black and White)

By Disha G.

Red Is the Color of... (Excerpt)

By Jocelyn G.

Red is the color of the invisible flame
that engulfs Earth
